LADIES' CLEAR A NEAT SUM.

The entertainment at the opera house last Friday evening given by home talent under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church was well attended and a pleased audience left the house at the conclusion of the program.

The chorus of about forty voices was drilled under the direction of Mr. George Stogler and much credit is due him for the success of the performance. His ability as a musical director was certainly shown by the graceful manner in which he directed the chorus. The chorus was the best drilled class that has appeared before a Cedarville audience in a long time and should be continued.

The readings by Miss Clara Keimier and Mr. Frank Young, were very interesting. The quartette consisting of Messrs. Sanderson, Marsh, Sullenberger and Siegler, also comes in for praise. Solos by Misses Charlotte Siegler and Daisy Hill, duets by Messrs. Siegler and Ustick and Mr. Sullenberger and Miss Hill were very appreciative.

It is stated that the Aid Society will clear about $50.

That the employees of the Cedarville telephone company can have at least one holiday in the year the management has decided to suspend all talking from 6:30 a. m., Monday until 8:30 a. m., Tuesday. The employees only get one day in the year for a holiday and we are sure that the patrons will hear with the inconvenience this one day at least.

R. H. Hood.

The many friends of Rev. Edwin McClintock, will be sorry to hear of his illness with typhoid fever at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Jennie Hutchinson on the Xenia and Clinton pike. Rev. McClintock and wife reside in McKeesport, Pa., and just last week buried their eighteen months old son, in Xenia.

The Pennsylvania railroad company is dropping large numbers of their Italian laborers that have been here most of the fall. Tuesday 30 were sent to Cincinnati and things were quite lively at the depot during the wait for the train.

School closes Friday for the holidays. It will take up again Monday, January the 1st, this is due to the fact the schools were out two days at the time of the Columbus institute.

Mr. James Gray, his mother, Mrs. Belle Gray, and sister Miss Lucile, expect to leave Saturday for Tarentum, Pa., where they will spend the holidays with Mrs. A. D. Bodeley. It might also be stated that before his return James will be found at Weaver Falls, Pa. His popularity among the ladies and his acquaintance of a charming young belle of that city is no doubt the real motive for his visit to the Falls.

OUR USUAL CUSTOM.

Following our usual custom the Herald is out a little sooner this week than usual owing to the holiday season and the benefit our advertisers would reap on the last shopping day, Saturday. It is always best that a newspaper appear on a certain day, but this change seldom comes. Then office help in a newspaper office does not get as much of a vacation as do most people owing to publication day coming in the midst of the holidays and for this reason we think they are entitled to all the time possible.

Mrs. J. B. Winter, Mrs. G. Y. Winter and daughter, Olive, will leave Monday for a visit with the former's sister, Mrs. Jennie Ashley, of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nisbet, were called to Bellefontaine, Tuesday owing to the death of Mrs. Nisbet's oldest sister, Miss Elizabeth Pitcher.

Mr. Charles Baskin left Monday evening for Buford, Georgia. He will spend about three weeks with his parents in the South.

Torture of a Preacher.

The story of the torture of Rev. O. D. Moore, pastor of the Baptist church, of Harpersville, N. Y., will interest you. He says: "I suffered agonies, because of a persistent cough, resulting from the grip. I had to sleep sitting up in bed. I tried many remedies, without relief, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which entirely cured my cough, and saved me from consumption." "A grand cure for diseased conditions of Throat and Lungs. At All Druggists; price 50c and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial bottle free."

IT WAS ONLY TALK.

For several days there has been a report that a deal was on whereby a connection would be made between the Clifton and Cedarville lines at Yellow Springs and that Fred J. Green of Springfield, had been over the proposed line.

The Herald interviewed Mr. Green on the subject, who states that he merely went over the route for inspection at the request of New York Capitalists. Mr. Green is an expert in electric railroad building and was selected by the Eastern men to give them his views on such a proposition. He stated to the Herald that there was nothing of importance to the public at this time, as the matter was out of his hands after he made his report of the inspection trip.

BANK OWNS IT NOW.

As stated in the last issue of the Herald that Mrs. Julia Condon had sold her residence property on Main street we are now at liberty to give the name of the purchaser and the consideration. The property has been deeded to the Exchange Bank for $1,400. The bank for some time has owned the adjoining property and as the two were under one roof it was thought best that one should own the building as it stands. It is expected that there will be some improvement put on the property in the early spring.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT.

The Clifton Union Schools will give "Santa Claus Defenders" at the Clifton Opera house Friday night December 22, at 8 o'clock, sundown. The entertainment is for the benefit of the school library. The admission will be 15c and 25c.

ANOTHER YEAR.

With this issue of the Herald volume twenty-eight is complete and the Herald has turned the twenty-eighth mile post in its career.

The past year has been a profitable one to the management and we hope our readers have enjoyed the same. Much success due a newspaper is through the policy it pursues.

From the very day the Herald passed under the present management we have been free to express our opinion in a frank manner, in order that the public should have the facts in the case as they existed, so that a truthful conclusion could be obtained.

There have been things happen the past year that have been distasteful to the public and we are sure such has been the case with us. Some times it becomes our duty to stand against issues that effect good government and then more than real force of the pen is necessary to right the wrong.

It is not a good policy to be always looking for the dark side of life, whether in business, social affairs or politics, but when wrong is so vividly written it most certainly is the ethical duty for any editor to stand against that which he knows will be injurious to his community.

While no doubt many will think that politics with the Herald the past year was the prime topic yet we hope that all will see in the end that our views as expressed were not for a selfish end. With all journals magazines and even religious papers, politics has been an important issue owing to the effect it would have on the liquor question. Therefore it can be seen that the Herald was in line with numbers of the influential journals of today.

Politically the Herald has always been Republican, so long as Republican principals were adhered to in reference to moral questions. We also endorse the Roosevelt-Taft-La Follet idea that no one man can nominate a ticket for the whole people, whether it be for municipal, county, state or national offices. And as evidence of our correctness on this subject we offer the sentiment of the people as voiced in the November election.

The Herald has always stood for the Anti-Saloon League and all its principles, for this most noble organization stands for the people, regardless of color, sex or creed.

In the corporation there has been two local option contests, both resulting by good majorities for the "Drys". The Herald in each case believed that it was for the best interests of all that the saloon be eliminated and to this end we worked not only in voting out the death eating business but in supporting the prosecution of all cases. Our space was freely offered to the people's representatives in these contests.

tests, the local Anti-Saloon League, for which we never received nor even asked for so much as a penny. We relate these facts to show that the policy of the Herald has always been for the interests of the public and not for a certain few greedy, grafting political hyenas that nurse the public test from year to year. Again we refer to the above in offering our space to defend the Homes, not boastfully but it being our duty, as your local committee was compelled to purchase its space to defend HOMES against the saloon in another paper, regardless of any explanation that might be offered by any person.

The Herald during the year 1906 asks for the liberal support of the people of this community in that this paper will advocate no issues other than that which will be advantageous to all. The Herald has never aspired to be an "organ" but a newspaper, the former only being the official mouth piece of a certain set of men in some political party that use the name of the party for their own advancement and as a cloak to cover up their illegal deeds, graft, theft of the ballot box, etc.

The Herald sends its greetings into every home for a "Merry Christmas" and "A Happy New Year."

A Treasury report states that "there is lack of small bills." Most people have noticed it and a scarcity of small silver as well.

People never understood about the fines in the Isle of Pines until they learned that the leader of the revolt is a Kansas populist.

Japan demands $25,000,000 for feeding the Russian prisoners. Practically Waldorf-Astoria prices for rice and fish.

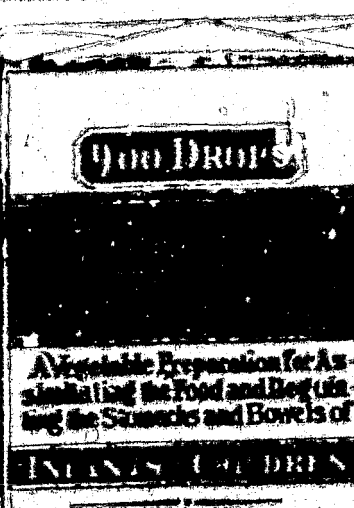

The football season is over and there is nothing for the college student to do for awhile but to play basketball.

Four thousand five hundred bills were introduced in twenty minutes on the opening day of Congress, but the pigeon hole space in the Capitol Committee rooms is ample.

The President in his message to Congress urged the careful scrutiny of all bills for the appropriation of public money. But in the matter of the Canal appropriation Congress decided to vote the appropriation and scrutinize it later.

The majority of Congressmen are inquiring how many spades could be bought for the amount paid the three ten thousand dollar a year clocks of the Commission, but not one of them asks how much peace could be bought with the salary of one Congressman.

Congressman, notwithstanding all reports, have not been idle during the summer. Their industry was shown at the opening of Congress when in the thirty minute session 4,500 bills were introduced. If there is a city in the United States that needs a new Post Office, a state that needs more river and harbor improvements or a veteran entitled to a pension, forgotten yesterday it was certainly not the fault of our Representatives.

INDIGESTION'S RECORD

"The best remedy I can prescribe for your indigestion, madam, is Green's August Flower. I know of several other physicians who prescribe it regularly."

"Indigestion is making an awful record as a cause of sudden deaths. It is beating heart failure in its ghastly harvest. It is the real cause of the vast majority of cases of heart failure and even robust men being suddenly attacked with acute indigestion after enjoying a hearty meal, and of their dying in many cases before a physician could be called in."

"This air full of a warning to you who suffer with regular or periodical attacks of indigestion. If these unfortunate victims of acute indigestion take a small dose of Green's August Flower before or after their meals they would not have fallen a prey to such sudden attacks."

"August Flower prevents indigestion by creating good digestion. It also regulates the liver, purifies the blood and tones the entire system in a natural way."

A LARGE EDITION.

The Sunday edition of the Springfield Sun was probably the largest Christmas edition ever put out in this section of the state, 52 pages.
The edition contained about 5000 inches of advertising which speaks much for it as a medium for reaching the people. The only criticism was that the color section looked rather cheap for such a paper, when the same thing was used by a number of country papers the past week. Such covers are usually used as a scheme to solicit advertising when the merits of the paper itself will not appeal to the advertiser.

LEAVES FOR TACOMA.

Mr. Charles Ervin of Xenia left Tuesday for Tacoma, Washington to visit his brother, John, who was taken sick some time ago in that city. Mr. John Ervin and wife just recently left this county and settled in Tacoma. It is probable that Mr.
Ervin will stop at Seattle on his return and visit Mr. Ralph Bull, who is located in that city.

The Chinese Way.

In China the entire family is held responsible for the acts of any of its members, and for certain offenses, such as an attempt on the life of the emperor, all are executed, even to the babe in arms. The teapoom or dean of the village, elected by universal suffrage, is responsible for the conduct of the families of his domain. The subprefect, prefect, governor and viceroy are all responsible in different degrees. An inundation and a famine are laid at the door of the governor or the viceroy, who are "father and mother to the people."
A number of years ago a mandarin was murdered by soldiers. As a result thirty-three functionaries—prefect, subprefects and superintendents—were declared responsible and beheaded and the governor and treasurer of the province were exiled.

Samuel Johnson's Preciseness.
Goldsmith and Boswell and Johnson having met at the usual hour at the chop house, Boswell observed that he had just encountered the Prince of Wales on the street.
"Do you think?" asked Goldsmith, turning to Johnson, "that the Prince of Wales will ever be king?"
"It is impossible!" retorted the great doctor. "Utterly impossible!"
"Why do you think so?" asked Boswell.

"Why, condemn you!" roared the doctor, getting red in the face.
"Why, because, sir, the minute he gets to be king he ceases to be Prince of Wales."

A Mrs. Malaprop.

The mistress of a certain boarding house is noted among her boarders as much for her entertaining conversational power as for the fine table she sets. Nevertheless she is something of a Mrs. Malaprop, and occasionally severely. The peculiarities of her listless, the peculiar "breaks" she makes. They had women under discussion at the table the other night, some of the boarders expressing a preference for slender figures and some favoring em-bonpoint. "I like a good, plump woman," said the boarding house mistress. "None of these thin emacipated women for me."—Philadelphia Record.

GRAND OPPORTUNITIES IN PIANOS

Nothing will be more appropriate or more appreciated by every member of the family than a Christmas Piano. We carry a line that in range and excellence is not to be found elsewhere outside a metropolitan city. The celebrated Baldwin, used and praised by every world famous pianist is handled by us exclusively. Then we have many other standard pianos, such as the Ellington, Hamilton, Howard, Valley Gem, etc., and at prices and terms to suit the purchasers. Come in, tell us what you want and let us figure with you.

The "Music Trades" of New York, in the issue of January 7, 1905, speaking of De Pachmann and his art, discloses this interesting bit of news: And what does De Pachmann himself, who knows a piano like few artists in the world, say of the Baldwin, which he chose for his own use exclusively on this American tour? He says: "The Baldwin has a touch like no other I ever played. It is a magnificent instrument, and so perfect in its touch that I play two recitals on the Baldwin with less fatigue and greater facility than one recital on any other piano I ever used." The pianist himself is best able to appreciate what this means in the formation of tone color, in the art of tone production. It is no faint praise, but is a eulogy of the highest and most discriminating kind. That De Pachmann's strong admiration for the Baldwin is most sincere was shown by a little incident at the last Sunday matinee in Carnegie Hall. Recalled again and again by the delighted audience, who insisted on his playing encores, and when he played one gave him thunderous applause, De Pachmann bowed low, and then, with a self-deprecatory gesture, he shook his head, and, with a sweeping gesture of his left hand, pointed to the piano, used his right hand to say in inimitable pantomime: "It was not I; it was the piano!"

MOTION.

The Visible Action and Invisible Inter-molecular Vibration.

Let us suppose that a stretched cord or wire held as both ends, and a sharp blow to given it. The hand or other instrument which imparted the blow was at in motion in order to do so, and its motion was one of translation, but the cord which had received the blow and to which some of the motion has consequently been transferred cannot change its place, for it is fixed. We know well enough what will happen. It will commence vibrating, more or less strongly and rapidly, according to the strength of the blow it has received. The force that has been transferred to the cord is now in motion of vibration, but a similar and quite as familiar transformation takes place which is invisible.

Let us take a coin or any small piece of metal and rub it well with a cloth or handkerchief. In a short time it will become warm and if the friction be still continued even unpleasantly hot. The visible motion of the hand has been transformed into the invisible intermolecular vibration which we call heat. That "heat is a form of motion" has become a scientific truism, but it was not so at the commencement of the last century, when it was still supposed by many to be some intangible kind of substance named "caloric," proofs to the contrary being almost simultaneously given by Davy and Rumford at the end of the eighteenth century, that of the former consisting in melting two pieces of ice, carefully insulated from external heat, by rubbing them together; that of the latter in causing water to boil by the sole means of keeping it in continual motion.

"It is hardly necessary to add," says Rumford, "that anything which any insulated body or system of bodies can continue to furnish without limitation cannot possibly be a material substance, and it appears to me exceedingly difficult if not quite impossible to form any distinct idea of anything capable of being excited and communicated in the manner heat was excited and communicated in these experiments, except it be motion."—Good Words.

How We Got Thermometers.

It is believed that Galileo made the first thermometer about the year 1595. It was an instrument of glass, consisting of a bulb from which a slender tube depended, open at its lower end, and there plunged into a vase containing some colored liquid, such as vinegar or wine.

The glass bulb was heated before the stem was immersed, and when the contained air cooled and contracted the fluid in the upright thermometer tube rose to a higher level. This simple and primitive apparatus is constantly made use of on the lecture table nowadays when some simple demonstration of the laws of heat is to be made.

Welcomed In Old Ireland.

W. Y. Morgan, writing from Ireland, tells this good story: "I was telling an Irish driver how nice everybody had been to us in Ireland and how pleasant the Irish were to Americans. 'Yis,' he said, 'when you go down the street everybody says: "There's some Americans, God bless 'em! Mark up the prices on the linen and lace!"'—Kansas City Journal.

SEED TIME

The experienced farmer has learned that some grains require far different soil than others; some crops need different handling than others. He knows that a great deal depends upon right planting at the right time, and that the soil must be kept enriched. No use of complaining in summer about a mistake made in the spring. Decide before the seed is planted.

The best time to remedy wasting conditions in the human body is before the evil is too deep rooted. At the first evidence of loss of flesh

Scott's Emulsion should be taken immediately. There is nothing that will repair wasted tissue more quickly or replace lost flesh more abundantly than Scott's Emulsion. It nourishes and builds up the body when ordinary foods absolutely fail.

THE BOIS DE BOULOGNE.

Parisian public opinion has been pretty thoroughly aroused over the proposal of the municipal authorities in relation to the principal playground of Paris, the beautiful Bois de Boulogne. The Paris municipal council recently purchased from the state that part of the fortifications and placed immediately adjoining the Bois with the intention of leveling the place and dividing up the ground into building lots. This would involve a diminution of the park by about 100 acres and the destruction of over 6,000 trees. In the old days of the empire such a plan once resolved upon would have been carried out, and the Bois would have been leveled like the protest, has now aroused public opinion to such an extent over the proposed vandalism as regards the Bois that it is scarcely probable the authorities will persevere in the plan.

Cables an Old Story Now.

The almost placid indifference with which America receives the news of the completion of arrangements for the extension of the present Pacific cable which links the United States with Hawaii, Guam and the Philippines to the shores of Japan and China is in remarkable contrast to the popular demonstrations which attended the completion of the first successful cable across the Atlantic in 1858. In that year the news was heralded by the ringing of bells and the discharge of cannon all over the land, and the first messages that passed beneath the oceanic depths voiced the felicitations and the rejoicings of the whole world at the great and daring triumph which had been accomplished.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Wife Beating in England.

Henry Labouchere has been discussing the matter of wife beating in the London press. He says that a strap is preferable to either the hand or the poker, as, while it causes much pain and has therefore good corrective qualities, it leaves little mark and is never likely to lead to trouble with the coroner's jury. The whole moral effect of the correction is lost, says he, if the police are called in. "Magistrates," he concludes, "to do them justice, are nearly always kindly and sympathetic to husbands who do their work with a reasonable amount of tact and discretion. They are not too particular about a black eye or a little blood or an occasional broken rib."

Autograph Collector's Method.

"I am getting up," said the minister, "a new department—the autographs of famous living poets. So far I have done well. Alfred Austin, Stephen Phillips, Madison Cawein, W. B. Yeats and several others have sent me admirable letters."

"How do you get such great men to write to you?"

"Very easily. I compose a poem, sign it with a poet's name and get it printed in our local paper. Then I send a marked copy of the paper to the bard concerned along with a letter asking if he really is the author of the cited lines. Promptly by return mail I get a white hot letter of denial."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Keeping a Secret.

A few years ago the president decided to appoint Mr. Wynne, now consul general at London, to be first assistant postmaster general.

"How will we keep this from the newspapers?" was asked by some of the president's advisers.

"I think that the best way would be to take the newspaper correspondents into our confidence," said the president.

This was done, and the secret was carefully guarded for a month, although known all that time by fifty or more Washington correspondents.—Louisville Post.

A London Auction.

As an example of what queer things come up at the London auctions: At the same sale appeared lately an apron, two armlets and other pieces used in devil dancing ceremonies in Tibet, these objects being made up of bones belonging to deceased lamas—they are carved with images of Buddha; a death's head made of lacquer, to be used as a mask for the devil dancer, and a contemporary death mask of Oliver Cromwell in perfect condition. This mask taken from Nell's face brought $400 and the devil's outfit $500.

A Municipal Newspaper.

Dresden has an odd institution, a municipal newspaper, not like New York's City Record, but a real journal, printing the news of the day. It was bequeathed to Dresden by Dr. Gunt. It has a large circulation and is the chief advertising medium of the neighborhood. Its profits are applied to beautifying the city and to charity.—New York Tribune.

CONDENSED STORIES.

The Joy of Giving Not Always Greater Than That of Receiving.

"My father was a personal friend of Stuart Robson, the veteran comedian, now dead, and was fond of telling anecdotes of the man whom he considered the greatest actor on the American stage," said Louis G. Hammett to the Milwaukee Sentinel. "According to one of them, Robson once sent a check for $100 as a wedding present to a friend who was to enter the hymeneal state. His theatrical engagements precluded his

"How long did he weep?" asked Robson, personal attendance at the ceremony, to which he sent his daughter as a representative of the family.

"My father was conversing with Robson when the daughter came home from the wedding, about which Robson asked many questions.

"When your friend saw your cheeks," said the daughter, "he was so overcome with emotion that he cried."

"So he cried, did he?" said Robson. "How long did he weep?"

"Oh, about a minute," said the girl.

"Only a minute!" shouted the comedian, with that curious quaver in his voice that made him famous in the character of Bertha the Lame. "Why, I cried half an hour after I signed the thing!"

Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only time, because it never sticks to the iron, but because each package contains 16 oz.—one full pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in 8 oz. packages, and the price is the same, 10 cents. Then each box contains Defiance Starch 16 oz. from famous chemicals. If you prefer to try to sell you a 12 oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 oz." Defiance Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron sticking. Defiance never sticks.
